WICHITA, Jan. 14. The receipts in the cattle market were very light today and contained a sprink ling of good cattle. These sold well at steady figures. Not much trading was done owing to the light supply.

The questions nere presented are to give the all per an idea of the general range of prices. The various classes and grades sell within the limits of these quintitions, according to the quality of effectings and the state of the daily markets. These quotisions are only changed when there has soon a jermanent change in the general market. The representative sames should be referred to to get the daily fluctuations.

Lucky Forgetfulness. The doctrine of a "soul of goodness in things evil" has many and varied manifestations. Even a treacherous memory has been known to serve its unhappy possessor an excellent turn. Here is an anecdote of a friend who many years ago traveled through Colorado and the adjoining country as salesman for a hardware house. In justified in putting it thus: many of the newer mining towns the hotels were rough seeming places, and were haunted by swaggering visitors who ca-

OLD, YET EVER NEW.

THE ROMANCE OF COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE ALWAYS INTERESTING.

A Daughter of Hon. Thomas F. Bayard One of the Brides of the Season Brooklyn's Novel Display-Wooed and Won by a Centenarian.

There is no end to the romance of marriage or to the popular interest in those who are ardent candidates therefor. Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of Cupid's antics, and the present season has had an unusual number of notable weddings. Mrs.

LOUISE LEE BAYARD. Frank Leslie has given up widowhood, Miss Louise Lee Bayard, fourth daughter of the ex-secretary of state, has become Mrs. Frank Angel, and in the Old World princes and princesses and other titled people have delighted the public with weddings in which the display of silks, laces and jewels surpassed all power of description.

The leading ladies of Brooklyn recently organized a unique entertainment illustrating marriage in all ages. The plan was that of "Marriage Dramas," first gotten up in Boston, but with the aid of Major Alfred R. Calhoun, the veteran journalist and story teller, the ladies made it almost a new affair, especially the poetry in which the chorus relates and partially explains the details. Two hundred beautiful young ladies took part, and the first scene rep resented "Marriage by Capture." The "Now, with me," said one of them, "the only really hard things to manage are the introduction and the conclusion. You result has been described by the conclusion of the conclusion. You result in the old Greek costume, called attention to the fact that this was the primitive method, introduction and the conclusion. Jacob worked fourteen years for one wife, Some think his love very sublime:

But measure if you can the love of the man Who works for one wife all the time. At one time when Billings nave a considerable sum of money he put up at a hotel, the proprietor of which was a thoroughly dangerous looking customer. It would be folly, hillings thought, to trust tragical. "Old Parr" first married at eighty and became the father of two shillings. At 105 he was convicted of a billing. At 105 he was convicted of a billing. The love affairs of old folks have furly, and married the second time at the really in fear of his life. Yet there was ly, and married the second time at the nothing to do but to make the best of supposed age of 120; but whether he things, and accordingly he retired to his was really 152 when he died or only 132, room, after instructing the hotel keeper to as some claim, cannot certainly be established. At any rate he lived through the entire reigns of Henry VII, Henry James I, and died in 1635.

Atlanta has the oldest bridegroom,

HIRAM LESTER. MARY MOSELY. he was born in Raleigh, 124 years ago. But as his oldest son is only eighty, some think Hiram is but 110. The son lives near Tunis Station, Ga., and is a shirt? much feebler man than his father. But just as the officers of the law were. Hiram had papers to show that he was a about setting forth in pursuit of the thieves soldier at King's mountain, a guest of Billings received a telegram from the sta Washington at Mount Vernon and a soldier in 1812-15, but they were burned with his house during the civil war. In 1881 he was compelled to go to the county farm to live, and there fell in love with the aged Mrs. Mosely, who consented after seven years' courtship, and so they were married at Atlanta during the exposition. Both are in fair health, and the old gentleman is remarkably clear headed and full of interesting rem-Hillscehoes.

A Famous Compliment.

Of famous compliments paid to the fair sex the supply is so large and dazzling that me. When I reached his bed I bent over him. 'Well, Willie,' I said, 'we will all miss you when you are gone.' and after ward, 'Did you want to see me heartlaft? said the lady, "that is your galiantry, The little fellow reached his hand up and laid it on my shoulder, as I bent over him, and whispered, 'My mamma will never hear the last about you.' A Light Motor Needed. We had the honor some years ago of becoming acquainted with MM de la Lan-delle and Ponton d'Amercourt, warm partianne and advocates of the doct of machines heavier than the air, which originsted, according to classical traditions, with Architan They convinced us, and we have since been their fervent disciples. We are in fact a persistent admirer of the simple processes employed in nature and used in a tourvelous way by birds to sue tain themselves in the air and guide their flight, and specious calculations have never caused us to doubt the possibility of a so-lution of the problem of locumotion in the air by wholly mechanical means, and we have long regarded the solution of it as depending solely on the discovery of a power ful and light motor,—G.
